

Kendalan's questions #37

Nethander and Felina were gone. Left a note that they would be back soon. When is soon? We can't wait, so we travelled on. Reed worried about her actions. Talked to Grimwald about penance. Perhaps I should think about it too? I can't see the problem with taking those ogres, but she follows a different faith than I do. Grimwald talked about giants, and one threw rocks at us. Cuura wanted to go underground. Why? Luckily there is no path according to Grimwald. We went around, but we still got ambushed. How can a ten feet, three armed, beast hide so well? Zhae lived when he should be dead. Does he understand 'careful'?

Busy area. Eight or so displacer beasts are stalking us. Are they sure that they're going to attack us? Not really, but what would happen if we run in other problems? Then they could tip the balance. So how to get them to attack us? Grimwald had fire protection, Reed several fireball beads. My wolf will guard the horses, while Cuura is going to draw them out. It worked, even if they almost mauled Reed, but Zhae was in time. Cuura showed true horsemanship.

Grimwald's healing is necessary again – he won't have much left. A bit past noon. What will the rest of the day bring?
